WYOMING AUTHOR

RODGER McDANIEL

Sunday, November 5, 2pm | CCPL

Campbell County Public Library and the Campbell County Historical Society are pleased to welcome Wyoming author Rodger McDaniel to speak about his latest book Profiles in Courage: Standing Against the Wyoming Wind.

"[Profiles in Courage] is a book about that most admirable of human virtues - courage. These are the stories of nine Wyoming citizens and three groups of citizens, i.e., the Black 14, the People of the Wind River Indian Reservation and the internees of Heart Mountain. It's about the grace with which they endured the risks to their careers, the unpopularity of their courses, the defamation of their characters, and sometimes, but sadly only sometimes, the vindication of their reputations and their principles. This book is about the flashes of courage these women and men exhibited when it mattered most."

The author has also written: Howard Zinn and Lois Mottonen Fistfight in the Equality State, The Man in the Arena: The Life and Times of U.S. Senator Gale McGee, and Dying for Joe McCarthy's Sins-The Suicide of Wyoming Senator Lester Hunt.

McDaniel has a University of Wyoming law degree and a Master of Divinity Degree with Honors from the Iliff School of Theology in Denver. He served 10 years in the Wyoming legislature, practiced law for 25 years, and recently retired from the Highlands Presbyterian Church in Cheyenne. Rodger was a 2000 Fellow at the Cathedral College of Faith and Culture. He and his wife Patricia live in Laramie. They have two children and five grandchildren.

This event is co-sponsored by the Campbell County Historical Society.

WYOMING AUTHOR

CURT WENDELBOE

Sunday, November 19, 2pm | CCPL

C.M. Wendelboe, prolific author and former Campbell County Sheriff's Deputy, is returning to Gillette to speak about his sixth Spirit Road Mystery, Death Under the Deluge.

Wendelboe writes mysteries with a Western flair, as well as traditional Westerns. He entered the law enforcement profession when he was discharged from the Marines as the Vietnam war was winding down. During his 38-year career in law enforcement, he served in various roles for several agencies, yet he always felt most proud of "working the street." He was a patrol supervisor in Gillette, Wyoming, when he retired as a sheriff's deputy to pursue his true vocation as a fiction writer.

NEW CCPLS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

JOHN JACKSON

by Sara Kubacher, Technical Services Librarian

Campbell County Public Library System is excited to continue offering great library services and programs with a new director leading the way.

John Jackson comes to CCPLS from the Foley Public Library in Foley, Alabama where he served as the Director for nine years. According to the press release from Leslie Perkins, the Commissioner's Office PIO, John has a history of civic involvement and drive for improving community relations. With his additional experience in archives and educational background in history, John will make fantastic contributions not only to the library but to the Campbell County community. In John's professional history, he has been recognized for outstanding achievements in public service, active in community programs and initiatives, and has an impressive list of published writing. John holds advanced degrees in history and library and information studies. His combination of education, community involvement and professional experience are sure to make John an asset to our community and libraries.
